

NOTICIAS

With the opening of a new office in Colombia, plettac electronics continues with its expansion in South America

plettac electronics seguridad, S.A Colombia, a new daughter company of plettac electronics group, started its business activities last June in Colombia with the opening of a new office in Bogotá. This new company is a further step in the international expansion promoted in recent years by the group, and it strengthens its presence in the Latin American and African markets.

plettac electronics seguridad, S.A Colombia will enhance the services of the Group to the local market, providing solutions in areas such as electronic security, telecommunications and fire protection.

Date: October 2012

Source: plettac electronics